Surrey Neuroplasticity Clinic is Hiring!

Who We Are
At the Surrey Neuroplasticity Clinic, we are a bunch of “neuro-nerds” with a passion for optimizing brain health. As early adopters of cutting-edge neuro technologies, we love pushing the boundaries of what’s possible. This is the clinic that people with neurological conditions come to when they’ve tried everything else. We give our clients the time they need to be properly assessed and treated with evidence-based services. And when the evidence is lacking, we have our own in-house clinical research team to dig deep into the science. This is more than just a job for us; we wake up in the morning ready to work hard and challenge each other, because we’ve seen the positive impact that quality care can have on our clients’ lives. Our clinic opened in March 2019 at the Health and Technology District, and we are now looking for an enthusiastic Occupational Therapist to join our growing, collaborative and fun team!

Who You Are
• You are a Registered Occupational Therapist in British Columbia
• You are aligned with our team’s core values: To be GREAT
• Ideally you have two years’ experience; exceptions may be made for otherwise outstanding applicants with a growth mindset
• Clinical experience with neurological populations is an asset, enthusiasm for brain health is a must!
• You are able to work full-time

What We Offer
• Outstanding focus on Quality and Customer Service.
• Access to a leading-edge multidisciplinary team to bounce ideas off, including: PTs, OTs, Kins, Neuroscientists, Business leaders, Health innovators, Engineers, Black belts, Yogis - you name it!
• Super energized, highly dynamic and innovative environment.
• Ability to combine cutting edge technologies (e.g. PoNS, NeuroCatch, Neurocom and more!) with treatment to help clients push past the plateau.
• Ability to direct your caseload based on your areas of interest and clinical expertise.
• Variety and flexibility in your schedule. Your days can be a mix of client care/research involvement/non-clinical tasks, such as program development or writing.
• Full time salary with benefits, paid vacation and pension. You don’t have to worry about fitting in as many clients as you can in a day, or missing out on income due to no-shows.
• Paid registration for COTBC, CAOT and private insurance.
• Enthusiastic support for personal and professional development: 1300$/year plus paid time while on courses, as well as experts brought in to provide relevant education.
• Access to 24/7 in-house fitness center and yoga space, rooftop terrace patio (with stunning mountain views), and free parking.
• One “Deep Work” day per month, where you to decide how to spend your time and what you want to dive deep into.
